VOLUME XXXVIII. NUMBER 52

LET'S get out a good vote at the special election, to be held June 24th. John Marshall deserves to be complimented with a handsome vote.

THE indications are that candidates will be extremely numerous for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district next year. Every county, or nearly every county, seems to have a favorite son.

BUTLER county last week voted on a proposition to build a $20,000 jail, and the proposition was badly defeated. We guess Butler county would like for the State to build another jail for their people, as it did twenty years ago.

FARMINGTON Times: "It is announced that the President will make a twelve days' trip through the Southern States in October. In this itinerancy he might make some speeches to strengthen his and Secretary Taft's position on railroad rate regulation and the right to buy supplies in the open market, where they can be bought the cheapest. He might broaden out on the latter proposition and make the principle apply to all the people as well as the government in purchasing the Panama canal supplies. If he wants to enforce Democratic principles let him be a Democrat right."

A SPECIAL from Farmington, dated the 13th, to the Register contained this highly interesting information:

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of State Hospital for the Insane, No. 4, located in this city, which was held here yesterday, Doctor W. F. Kuhn of Kansas City was elected as successor to Superintendent Frank L. Keith, and W. W. Waters of New Madrid was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary M. G. Gresham. Soon after the convening of the board requests were sent to every official of the institution to resign, with the exception of Treasurer W. N. Fleming. Superintendent Keith, Assistant Superintendent Frank S. Vernon and Secretary Gresham immediately complied with the request of the board, but Steward Joseph Hocken declined. Action on the refusal of Mr. Hocken was deferred until July 1, the date for the next meeting of the board. Mr. Vernon's resignation was not acted upon and all consideration of that matter was indefinitely postponed. Treasurer W. N. Fleming was re-elected, as was also Mrs. Maggie L. Gray of Fredericktown, who occupies the position of matron. Instructions were issued by the board to the new superintendent, Doctor Kuhn, to employ Mrs. W. W. Waters, wife of the new secretary, as superioress, a position with duties similar to those of matron.

Des Arc Items.

A very sad accident happened in our community last week by which one of our best citizens lost his life. Mr. Jas. Pate and Mr. McKee went out on St. Francis river fishing last Thursday. Everything went off well until about 11 o'clock, when they got into a boat to fix some fish lines and put fresh bait on them. After this was done they intended returning to camp for the night. When ready to start back the boat was about 20 or 30 yards from shore and in deep water. Mr. Pate remarked that he had better throw out some water, but after investigation he found no water; when all at once the water began to rush in from every side, and in a few moments the boat began sinking. Mr. McKee was in one end of the boat holding two lanterns, while Mr. Pate sat in the other end. Suddenly their lanterns went out, leaving them in total darkness. Mr. McKee being a good swimmer, managed to get to the shore after going down twice. But Mr. Pate, having never learned to swim, went down, and on coming up for the last time, cried for help, but no help was near as Mr. McKee was then exhausted. He kept calling to Mr. Pate to follow him and to keep on striving to reach the shore. But at last he gave up and never rose again. His watch, which he carried, stopped at 11:30, so it is supposed that he was drowned about that time. Mr. McKee, after getting out had to go down the river a half mile and cross at the Phipps ford, and not being used to the country made his way as best he could through the darkness; the moon having gone down he could only guess at which way he was going. He at last found his way to Jas. Chilton's house on the Smith farm, and from there rode to Saco and telephoned the sad news to his wife at this place.

Never were the people of Des Arc more shocked and grieved to hear the sad news. Almost every home in Des Arc was awakened by the tears and sobs of friends and loved ones. At day-break a large crowd of men went to search for the body, but in the meantime the farmers of that vicinity had begun a search and succeeded in finding the body. At 6 o'clock a Coroner's jury was summoned and held an inquest. The remains were brought home by his many friends, and it was a heart-rending scene. The funeral service was preached at the Baptist church by Rev. Seaton from the 14th chapter of Job. It was the largest funeral ever seen in Des Arc. Mr. Pate had been a member of the Baptist church at this place about six years, and lived a pure Christian life; as Bro. Seaton remarked in his sermon, his life was an open book; never did he do anything that he was ashamed for the world to know. He was 29 years of age, and was married five years ago to Miss Augusta Gill, of Patterson, Mo. They had two children who preceded their father to a better world. Mr. Pate was formerly a member of the Woodmen, but withdrew his membership about a year ago, as he did not believe in secret societies. But his wife will be well taken care of, as her parents are well-to-do farmers near Patterson, where she will make her home. They will be sadly missed by their many friends in Des Arc. Mr. Pate was superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school at this place, and will be missed so much by his scholars. When they met last Sunday all the school was in tears for their much loved superintendent. It will be hard to fill his place. Mr. McKee said that in all his life he had never experienced so sad a scene; to see his friend in danger and not be able to help him when he called. May God bless his heart-broken widow and mother and all his relatives. Among the relatives and friends here to attend the funeral were the following: Mrs. Pate, the mother, Walter and Clifton Pate, Frank Pate and wife, two sisters, Mrs. Ella McCulluh and Miss Jewel Pate, all of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gill, of Patterson; Clyde Gill, of Caruthersville, and Irvin Gill, of Patterson; Pack Fulton and wife, Sam Harrison and wife, and Mrs. Jas. Peyton and son, of Piedmont; Dr. O'Bannon and wife, Mrs. Wm. Hay, Sam Tullock and wife, D. A. White, of Brunot.

I have taken up so much space writing of the accident that there is little room for local news. It is very dry here and gardens and corn are suffering.

E. W. Graves has gone to Battle Creek, Mich., in search of health. Hope he may be benefited.

We are glad that J. W. Daniels is division superintendent now of I. M. road, as there may be a chance for us to get a wire put in here. Smith had it taken out. It is very inconvenient to wait for a train, not knowing when it will come.

Wm. Stevenson is kept busy putting in new phone boxes and looking after the line.

The wheat crop in this section is good. Corn is very backward and late.

Thos. P. Fitz has a car load of ice which he will sell to any one wanting ice. Will also pay cash for each load of hub timber delivered on the railroad siding.

Stevenson & Fitz shipped a car of hoops Monday.

The saw mills are making better time.

Sympathy.

The teachers of Iron county in attendance upon school at Ironton, in sorrow for the loss of our sister Eva, whose untimely removal has spread a cloud over our hearts, extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Father, mother, into the shade of the cypress tree we come and extend to you our hand. We, too, have lost. Marcus, she was our sister and her place will no more be filled. With you we mourn. We knew her and feel that from the life she led, this is not death, but a sort of translation to those realms wherein the weary are at rest. "E'en her failings lean to virtue's side." Let us be brave and meet her.

Mrs. Sallie A. Nail, (Nee Wells.)

The subject of this sketch was born October 5, 1834, was married to G. B. Nail, July 13, 1854, and departed this life, after seven or eight months of severe affliction, at her home Ironton, Mo., May 15, her husband preceding her five years. She was the mother of nine children, three of whom are living, Mrs. J. M. Dale, Fredericktown, Mo., W. W. Nail, St. Louis, and H. Arthur Nail of Ironton. The Rev. J. C. Berryman, of Caledonia, is her stepfather. Sister Nail was an ideal type of an educated, refined southern and Christian lady. All the refinement of womanhood and the graces of the most elegant character met in her beautiful and sweet-spirited soul. She had an ear and eye, and transparent soul for the beautiful and good, and God so endowed her by taste and tact that every charm and glory of nature was drunk in by her beautiful and heavenly spirit. As a wife her heart was flooded and subdued by a sea of affection, and true devotion, and as a mother, was such that her children to-day, "arise and call her blessed." A Christian from early life, and her time and talent were given to God in her service as a member of the M. E. Church, South, where her virtue, character and precious memory remain as a polished and enduring monument to all that was noble and good. Her patience and faith, resignation and trust, during her sickness, were of the sublimest type.

The love and devotion and painstaking care of her son, Arthur, during the weary months of his mother's illness, are worthy both the admiration and emulation of any living mortal. May God bless him!

The sunset of sister Nail's earthly life was without a cloud, a doubt or a fear. When her Lord called at the end of her earthly journey she stepped upon the heavenly chariot, and her snow-white spirit swept far away beyond earth's clamor to live in glory in the city of her God.
